» SPARKLE AND SHINE

Glitter screams fun. 'Mix two or three to find the most flattering shade (here it's silver, gold and pink), then apply over the lid as a wash,' advises Zoe. The more haphazard, the better. A minimalist? Try a glint in the corner of each eye.

THE NEW SMOKE

A smoky eye without mascara feels decidedly new. 'It stops make-up looking heavy or overdone,' says Zoe. 'Elongate eyes by concentrating shadow on the inner corner and under the brow bone, diffusing it out towards your temple.' Trace CHANEL Stylo Yeux Waterproof Longwear Eyeliner And Kohl Pencil in Vert Emeraude, £24, in the waterline to add intensity. And on the bottom lash line? Run an angled brush of the same black shadow, covering lashes too.

METALLIC MATTER

With a wash of silver, topped with a smattering of silver-leaf foil, this eye look is the party. Take the shadow all the way up to your brow, which, according to make-up artist Zoe Taylor (the pro behind the looks you see here) 'opens eyes up no end'.
